She Uses Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies.

THE NAME of Mrs. J. E. Harwell, (nee Julia Emma Fleming) is a familiar one in the state of Georgia. She writes: "It is with pleasure that I express my gratitude for the wonderful benefits I have received from Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies, especially the Nerve and Liver Pills, New Heart Cure and Anti-Pain Pills. Actual experience has taught me their great worth. No family should be without them. They have fully restored me from a complication of disorders chiefly affecting the heart, nervous system and kidneys. When I travel I always take one of your Anti-Pain Pills before entering the cars and thus prevent swimming of the head and nausea, to which I have been subject for several years."

Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee. First bottle benefits or money refunded. Book on Heart and Nerve sent free to all applicants. DR. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

The Brownstown Banner's lawyer is in his interpretation of the law relating the publication of the township trustees report just as he does in so many other things. He is certainly not a close reader or else he interprets law just to fit his own case.

The Banner need have no concern about the REPUBLICAN'S circulation in Driftwood township. We have more bona fide subscribers in that township than the Banner. Our correspondents are the best and we publish more news from that township each week than any other paper in the county.

There is a Class of People.

Who are injured by the use of coffee. Recently there has been placed in all the grocery stores a new preparation called GRAIN-O, made of pure grain that takes the place of coffee. The most delicate stomach receives it with out distress, and but few can tell it is coffee. It does not cost over 1/2 as much as coffee. Children may drink it with out benefit. 15 cts. and 25 cts. per package. Try it. Ask for GRAIN-O.

WHO PAYS FOR THE COURT HOUSE.

To one who has read the law upon the subject of court house removal, there is no question as to who pays the expenses of the county seat removal. The township into which the court house is removed becomes liable under the law for the entire cost of the new buildings. In fact there can be no removal of records and files until the new court house is built and deeded to the county free of all "mortgage, mechanic or other liens."

Section 22 of the county seat act is as follows:

SECTION 22. The relocation of a county seat under the provisions of this act, and the buildings because of such relocation, and the charges, expenses and liabilities consequent thereon, shall not, in whole or in part, become a charge on said county, nor shall said county assume any liability therefor, but the whole shall be paid by the township of said county in which said county seat is relocated. That said county seat shall not be relocated in any township of said county, nor the county records and files be moved to and located at such place of such relocation by the county commissioners of that county, until the court house and jail shall have been relocated and turned over to the county, and a good and sufficient warranty deed shall have been delivered to such county, upon which said buildings are located, as provided for in this act, and said real estate and building shall be free from any and all mortgage, mechanic or other liens.

This section absolutely prohibits the county from ever assuming any part of the removal, or new buildings expenses provides that there can be no relocation, no removal of books, files or records, until the new buildings are completed, and that they and the ground on which they are situated are all free from all classes of liens.

The framers of the county seat act were careful in their preparation of it that it should absolutely and forever prohibit and prevent the levy, or collection of a dollar for removal expenses from any one, except taxpayers of the township in which the county seat is relocated, and the incorporated cities and towns therein. It was believed and rightly so, and such is the law, that the locality which receives the benefits derived from the removal of the county seat ought to pay the expenses of removal, including new buildings.

The supreme court of the state has in express words upheld all the essential features of the county seat law, and it has by express mention upheld and pronounced valid all its sections upon the subject of taxation and the removal expenses including the cost of the new buildings.

It is being urged on the voters by anti-removalists who have no better reasons to give for their opposition, that if the county seat act does restrict the cost of removal to Jackson township, that some subsequent legislature may pass a law authorizing the county commissioners to reimburse the township at the expense of the county. Every thoughtful man knows that where the county seat is relocated by virtue of law which imposes the burden of removal upon the township in which it is relocated that no legislature could make or would attempt to make provisions for reimbursing the township.

Wherever a contract right has accrued under a law, general or special, no subsequent law can interfere with, or change that right. Contract rights are usually provided for and accrue under special matter only, and those matters immediately connected with it.

The removal act creates contract rights which no subsequent legislature can invalidate or interfere with. To do so would be to violate that provision of the constitution which prohibits the legislature from passing laws which violate the obligation of contracts.

In case relocation carries, the act creates a legislative contract between the people of Seymour and Jackson township, and all the other people of the county. The contract thus created by the legislature is that Jackson township including Seymour, shall bear all the expenses of removal, including new buildings, and should the legislature pass a law, which every man of common sense knows it will not, to make it possible to cast any of the burden of relocation on the people of the county living outside of Jackson township, all know it would be in violation of their contract rights created by the existing act of the legislature on county seat relocation, and would be absolutely void. There is and can be no power to impose any of the expense of relocation on any taxpayer outside of Jackson township and all who assert the contrary know it.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Large Attendance and Much Interest Manifested.

The county Sunday-school convention now in session at the Presbyterian church is the most largely attended of any of the annual meetings. The capacity of the church is tested to accommodate the crowd of delegates and visitors.

The lecture last night by the state Superintendent, C. D. Meigs, was attended by a large crowd and was interesting and suggestive throughout. His subject was, "Why I am in the Sunday School Work."

This morning was opened by a sunrise prayer meeting led by Rev. F. H. Tormohlen which was well attended. The following is the list of subjects presented this morning:

The Observance of the Lord's Day, Miss Anna Reynolds, Tampico. Discussion by Miss Bessie Patrick, Seymour. Primary Work, Mrs. R. J. Montgomery, Seymour. Discussion led by Miss Lou Van Horn, Seymour.

Township Officers' Conference led by Wm. H. Rapp, Redding Township President. The Bible, Louis Mobley, member of state executive committee, Columbus. Rally Day, C. B. Davis, Co. Sec., Brownstown.

Decision Day, Miss Adda Phifer, Brownstown. Discussion by Mrs. J. L. Kessler, Seymour.

The conference of township officers indicated a very great improvement in Sunday-school work during the past year in the county.

The afternoon session opened with devotional exercises led by Rev. G. W. Applegate, of Brownstown. The subjects to be presented as follows:

Question box opened. Answers by J. W. Clevenger, Seymour, and Rev. George S. Henninger, Crothersville. Methods for Interesting Young People, Elder A. F. Beare, Seymour. Discussion led by Ralph Cross, Asst. Sec. Freetown.

The Effects of Early Training, Mrs. Nora Ackerman, Crothersville. Discussion led by Mrs. Ella Robertson, Asst. H. C. Supt. Ewing.

Sunday school Music, Prof. J. W. Browning Mooney. Discussion led by Prof. L. N. Fouts, Brownstown.

Who Does the Sunday School Benefit D. W. Caine, Seymour.

What the County Officers Expect of the Sunday Schools by the New County Officers.

What the Sunday Schools Expect of the New County Officers by D. A. Koch, enour, Brownstown.

The following officers were elected for the coming year:

WAR ON SALOONS.

Liquor Spilled and Fixtures Were Burned in Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 1.—The war on saloons, which has been raging fiercely in many Kansas towns of late, reached an acute stage in this city when 10 saloons were raided by the police and $9,000 worth of liquor seized and poured into the gutters. Saloon furniture and fixtures being 10 big drays were seized and carted to the police headquarters, where they were burned yesterday. The confiscations were under injunctions against the joints and the proprietors, made permanent many months ago, and the property was destroyed without further process of law. Similar action will be taken against some 70 other joints.

Indiana State Tax Board Increases the Corporate Property Assessments $4,500,000—Received Her Burial Outfit—Sweethearts Fifty Years Ago—Cut His Harness to Pieces—Tragedy at Dillsboro.

COWAN, Ind., Sept. 1.—An old stationary boiler in Rowlogie's saw and tile mills here exploded last night, destroying the mills and injuring three men. They are: Jacob Replogie, aged 60; Clinton Replogie, aged 35, and Amos Replogie, aged 26. Jacob was scalded horribly and lost internally, being struck in the breast and pinned to the ground by heavy timbers. Clinton was terribly scalded and caught by flying timbers. They will likely die. Pieces of the boiler and timber fell a quarter of a mile from the scene. Amos says the boiler was full of water.

ANOTHER DILLSBORO TRAGEDY.

Henry Lange Found Dead in a Field by His Daughter.

DILLSBORO, Ind., Sept. 1.—Another tragedy has taken place near here. The dead body of Henry Lange was found in a field close to his home by his 14-year-old daughter, his head pouched to a jelly, and the indications pointing to a desperate fight for life with unknown assailants. The community is greatly stirred up over the tragedy. Several years ago the Lange house was destroyed by incendiaries and after it had been rebuilt there were repeated efforts to again apply the torch. A man and his wife under suspicion were arrested and the accused were released, the evidence being insufficient. At times since much bitter enmity has been shown, but there is no evidence even now warranting an arrest.

EX-BANKER FARES.

Shrinkage in Value of Property Causes No Assignment.

ROCKVILLE, Ind., Sept. 1.—Samuel L. McCune, for 25 years owner and for the past five president of the Rockville National bank, from which he retired a few weeks ago, has failed. Shrinkage in value of the estate, mostly coal lands, is the principal cause. He lately gave $20,000 in mortgages to secure creditors. The big Lavery estate is a large creditor and is only partially secured. Mr. McCune will have nothing except his residence and one small farm.

INCREASED PROPERTY VALUATION.

State Tax Board Adds $1,500,000 to Corporate Property Assessments.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 1.—The final footings of the assessments of corporate property by the state board of tax commissioners shows that the board has increased the assessment of this class of property $1,500,000 over last year. The total valuation of all property in the state assessed for taxation will show a large increase over former years. In many of the counties there has been a substantial increase in personal property, and in few counties is a decrease shown.

General Wallace Doesn't Like Bicycles.

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ind., Sept. 1.—General Lew Wallace, in delivering an address at a reception to Commandery No. 19, P. O. S. of A., which had just returned from Reading, Pa., where it won first honors in a competitive drill, stated that the best appearing man was always one of military training. He said bicyclists resembled monkeys more than men, and he greatly deprecated the popular custom of wheeling.

Arrested the Wrong Man.

RICHMOND, Ind., Sept. 1.—William Jennings, a colored farmer, south of this city, has been arrested and taken to Xenia, O., on a charge of stealing cattle. People in the vicinity where Jennings resides are very indignant, claiming he is a man of good character and has not been off his farm this summer. His neighbors, all of whom are white, will establish an alibi.

Sweethearts Fifty Years Ago.

HAGERSTOWN, Ind., Sept. 1.—Richard Cheeseman and Mrs. Phoebe Hedrick were married at the home of the groom today. The groom is 70 years of age and the bride 65 years old. This newly married couple were sweethearts 50 years ago, but the course of true love was diverted and each of them married another and reared a family.

Received Her Burial Outfit.

ENGLISH, Ind., Sept. 1.—Mrs. Dixon Hanna, a wealthy widow, very ill here, has received her coffin, burial clothes and a $1,000 monument, which she says is in accordance with her life-long intention to pay all the expenses of her funeral while she is capable of doing it.

United Brethren In Conference.

GREENSTOWN, Ind., Sept. 1.—The 52nd annual session of the White River Conference of the United Brethren church is in session here for a 5-days' meeting, closing Sunday morning. Bishop Weaver of Dayton, O., the senior bishop of the church, is presiding.

Took an Overdose of Morphine.

SPENCER, Ind., Sept. 1.—Mrs. Hugh Hoag died yesterday from the effect of an overdose of morphine. She had been in the habit of taking the drug to get relief from asthma.

Drought Ended.

ENGLISH, Ind., Sept. 1.—A good rain fell here yesterday, the first since wheat harvest. Corn has been almost ruined by drought and most of it has been cut up and shocked.

Cut His Harness to Pieces.

CHIESTERFIELD, Ind., Sept. 1.—Supposed "whitecappers" entered Arthur Hugh's barn here, and four sets of harness were literally cut to pieces.

ORDINANCE NO. 406.

AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE ADOPTION OF AN ACCOUNTING STAMP.

SECTION 1.—Be it ordained by the common council of the city of Seymour, Indiana, that the finance committee of the common council be and the same is hereby authorized and empowered to contract for the use of such a system of accounting stamps, with the necessary accommodations and appliances to carry the same into effect, as shall check and verify the collection of all moneys paid to the officers, agents and employees of the city for the city's use, and which shall secure correct accounting for the same, provided that a contract can be made for such stamps and appliances that will be entirely satisfactory to the finance committee; and that, under no circumstances, shall the cost to the city exceed fifty dollars in any one year.

SECTION 2.—It shall be the duty of every officer, agent or employee of the city of Seymour to whom money shall be paid (after the adoption of this ordinance, and filing of a date by a contract made in compliance herewith) on account of the city and for its use, and benefit, to give a receipt to the payor, on the form prescribed by said accounting system, for the full amount of money so paid to such officer, agent or employee; and before delivering such receipt to the payor he shall affix thereto, and cancel in such manner as the finance committee may direct, a stamp or stamps, indicating exactly the amount received and accepted for.

SECTION 3.—The stamp to be used as indicated in the ordinance shall be filed by the finance committee to the officers, agents or employees who may have use for the same. Reports of stamps used shall be made by such officers, agents or employees to said committee, in such manner and form and at such times, or at any time, that said committee may require.

SECTION 4.—Every receipt in blank furnished by the city to its officers, agents or employees, shall have printed upon it a stamp, indicating exactly the amount received and accepted for, and the receipt shall be valid only in force until an accounting stamp or stamps, as indicated in such notice, shall be affixed and properly cancelled by the proper officer, agent or employee.

SECTION 5.—Every officer, agent or employee of the city of Seymour, who receives money for the use of said city and on its account, who shall neglect or refuse to perform any of the duties required of him or her by this ordinance, shall forfeit and pay to the city of Seymour, upon conviction by the proper court, any sum designated by the court, not less than Ten Dollars nor more than One Hundred Dollars for each offense. A second conviction for such an offense shall be sufficient cause for removal from office.

SECTION 6.—This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its legal passage and publication.

Passed and approved by the common council of the city of Seymour, Indiana, this 29th day of August, 1897. J. E. McKINNEY, City Clerk.

FOUND DEAD IN HIS CHAIR.

Jesse O. Harris Commits Suicide at Indianapolis.

This morning's Journal contains an extended account of the death of Jesse O. Harris at his store at Indianapolis. On Saturday he was slightly wounded in the head by being thrown against a balustrade in an encounter with a man from whom he attempted to collect a bill. He wandered about town and finally had his head dressed at the dispensary. It is thought that the blow affected his mind. Tuesday morning he was found sitting upright in front of his store by the driver of the bread wagon who had jumped off to deliver bread. The driver thought he was asleep, and on finding him dead with a bullet hole in his head he aroused the folks and telegraphed for the police. The coroner investigated the case and reached the conclusion that Harris "died from a pistol shot wound, evidently inflicted by himself."

Harris was once well known in this city. He was an old soldier and a member of the G. A. R. Besides he belonged to several orders, including the Masons, Odd Fellows and Red Men. He went to Indianapolis several years ago. About four years ago his wife obtained a divorce from him and is now living in California. A son of Harris' lives in Kansas. S. O. Harris, of Indianapolis, is a brother and he has two sisters in Seymour, Mrs. Edward Donaldson and Mrs. John Hawkins. The body will be brought to Seymour Thursday at 10:00 for burial. The funeral will be in charge of the Odd Fellows.

James Hamilton, of near Honeytown, who was prostrated five weeks ago with hemorrhage of the kidneys, is practically no better.

James Harvey Crane and John Persinger, of near Shields, came up Tuesday to attend Sunday school convention.

Mrs. Sarah Henderson, of Clark county, came here today to reside with her son, Joseph Henderson, and family, near the city.

George R. Harris and family went today to Little York to see his sister-in-law, Mrs. Sarah Fleenor, who with her two sons are very sick.

Mrs. H. M. Crabb and children, of Decatur, Ill., after a delightful time spent with Mrs. T. L. Ewing, and family, left for home this forenoon.

Prof. L. M. Pohlman, of Brooklyn, N. Y., after an enjoyable visit to his father, Rev. W. J. Pohlman, and family of Sauers, left for home last night.

Louis Mobley, of Columbus, member of the executive committee of the state Sunday school, came here last night to attend Sunday school association convention.

Mrs. Charles T. Benton, Mrs. Nelson Appar and Mrs. Gertrude Appar, of Brownstown, were yesterday pleasantly entertained by Mrs. Willis Johnson and family.

John and August Schaechter, of Cincinnati, after an enjoyable visit to their half brother, Gus Cordes, and to Dudleytown friends and relatives, returned home last evening.

BRICK STREETS ON THE AVENUE.

Probability That Work Will be Resumed Next Monday.

Yesterday the injunction suit of the B. & O. S. W. against the city of Seymour in the brick street case was practically settled by an agreement which was reached between the parties to the suit. The agreement needs the sanction of the railroad officials and of the city council. If this is given as promptly as expected work will be resumed next Monday and the streets will be completed in time for the street fair. Mayor Baisley states that the city has gained all that is contended for in the case.

BUSINESS NOTES.

T. J. Starfield went to Sparksville this morning on business.

Will B. Werning made a business trip this morning to Indianapolis.

A. L. Smith, a rising young farmer of Surprise, was a business visitor in the city today.

Wheat is bringing eighty seven cents and corn twenty-five cents per bushel in this market today.

The Carter Company is erecting a handsome veranda at the home of James Champion. Also at the residence of William Railing.

W. A. Carter and John A. Carter and families went into camp on White river this morning to fish and to get away from the care and noise of the city.

William Bullman and sons near Ewing yesterday finished threshing twenty acres of clover and it made an average of four bushels to the acre. They brought forty bushels of the seed here today and sold it to J. H. Hodapp.

Give no laudanum and opium to the innocent babe, these are dangerous and should be discarded. Give in their stead Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup. It is absolutely safe. Price 25 cts.

SOUTH DRIFTWOOD.

Henry Hess expects to have a new house put up.

George Wolke is still sick and his recovery is doubtful.

James Burcham took a load of watermelons to Salem Saturday.

David Golden is quite ill. He hurt his hand and blood poison has set in.

Morton Lyster while practicing with his new revolver shot Mr. Blackwood's calf.

John Wright and wife, of Vallonia, visited in the family of Holmes Empson Sunday.

Henry Shoemaker and Holmes Rucker each took a load of watermelons to Bedford last week.

The stand rights for the picnic to be held here next Saturday were bought by Mr. Sewell. Thirty dollars was the price paid.

Something to Depend on.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says that last winter his wife was attacked with La Grippe, and the case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into hasty consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from the first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at W. F. Peter's drug store.

To Care For Visitors.

From the many inquiries received regarding the Free Street Fair it is presumed that during the Fair week Seymour will be visited by a vast concourse of people.

As the hotels will be unable to accommodate all the visitors with lodging it is expedient that some other arrangement be made for the entertainment of those who remain with us over night.

Any citizen who is prepared to lodge one or more persons will please report to the management, who will take name and address and make arrangements accordingly. G. A. CLARK, Sec'y.

CHURCH NOTES.

The annual mission feast of the German Lutheran church will be held next Sunday at Sauers. This always draws largely from Seymour people.

Rev. Fuller Swift, of Columbus passed through here this morning on his way to Campbellsburg to attend the meeting of the Orleans Baptist association.

Elder E. B. Scofield, of Irvington after a pleasant visit to Elder Thomas Jones went Tuesday to Columbus to take charge of the elegant Christian church in that city until lately in charge of Elder Z. T. Sweeney.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

John R. McLean's Great Newspaper.

Without a single exception, there is beyond doubt no greater or more popular newspaper in the United States than the Cincinnati Enquirer; and a more successful publisher than its proprietor, Mr. John R. McLean.
The old-time prices for the Daily Enquirer have been maintained, and its circulation largely increased each year; hard times and cheaper journals failing to arrest its onward march and high appreciation of the public for its true worth and merit.

The Weekly Enquirer at beginning of the campaign year was offered at 50 cents a year, and its circulation increased by the addition of over 200,000 new subscribers; the most substantial and coveted testimonial a publisher could desire.

When asked for the secret of such success, Mr. McLean frankly answers:
The Enquirer has no opinions to force upon its patrons, it simply prints the facts and tells the truth that the reader may form his own opinions. By maintaining the price of the paper, more news and greater variety can be furnished, and every class of business interests catered to, which a cheaper journal cannot afford.

The very liberal support given the Enquirer by the public at large, makes incumbent upon the management to serve it faithfully with zeal and enterprise in minor matters as well as in use of greater magnitude.

COURSING LIZARDS.

The Amusement of a Tame Eagle in the Arizona Desert.

In St. Nicholas Wolcott Le Clear
Beard writes of "Moses, a Tame Eagle," which was one of his pets while he was engaged in engineering in southern Arizona. Mr. Beard says he was very fond of the lizards with which these plains abounded, and one large variety, called swifts, from their remarkable speed in running, seemed to be especially coveted.

Whenever one of these was caught, which was not often, Moses would be brought out, and after the swift had taken a ten foot start, would be set free.
The lizard would promptly resolve itself into a white streak across the desert, and, screaming with excitement, half running, half flying, Moses would pursue, followed by the laughing crowd, of which only those on horseback had much chance of keeping up. It was in no sense a cruel sport. It amused Moses and us and didn't hurt the swift, for he got away every time, and if the feelings of our pet were a trifle injured as he returned, perched on some one's wrist or saddle horn, from his faithful hunt these were speedily soothed by the prompt gift of a nice bit of fresh beef, so no one was the worse. The lizards, however, he seemed to view as a sort of dessert, and as he could absorb an unlimited quantity they were always in demand.

A certain stick kept on the veranda of our office was generally under his eye, and when any one picked this up and started for a walk across the desert Moses would hop gravely along behind, sure that some of his favorite dainties would soon be forthcoming.

Of course Moses was perfectly well able to catch the smaller kinds of lizards for himself, but there was less exertion in allowing some one else to do it for him, and exertion at this period of his life was a thing to which Moses was violently opposed. These occasions were almost the only ones when he would be silent for any length of time, for he seemed to understand perfectly that at the first note of his voice every lizard within hearing would run for his life to the nearest refuge, and only when a blow of the stick had been given for the second or third time would he make would he give utterance to his deep disgust at such clumsiness.

His Part in the Affairs.

A very dejected looking man stood in the dignified presence of the police judge.

"You are charged with being drunk and disorderly," said the judge with great solemnity. "Are you guilty or not guilty?"

"I don't know, your honor," responded the submissive prisoner. "I suppose I am."

"Am?" queried the judge a little less solemnly.

The prisoner rubbed his eyes as if to see more clearly.

"No, your honor," he said. "Not am, but was."

"Was what?"

"Was drunk, I suppose, your honor."

"You've never been here before, have you?"

"No, your honor."

"Have you any explanation to offer for your unbecoming conduct?"

"Not that I can recall at this moment, your honor," and the prisoner rubbed his head as if to start the circulation of his memory once more.

"I am informed," suggested the judge in a kindly tone, for he had a weakness that way himself, "that you were fishing."

This suggestion appeared to be what the prisoner needed.

"Thanks, your honor," said he with a brightening face, "but I wasn't fishing."

"No?" and the erstwhile kindness of the judge's manner grew cold.

"No, your honor, I was cutting bait.
The Lord only knows the condition of the man who did the fishing. I left him speechless under a tree two hours before I met the policeman."

The case was continued until a searching party returned.—New York Sun.

ONE OF TWO WAYS.

The bladder was created for one purpose, namely, a receptacle for the urine, and as such it is not liable to any form of disease except by one of two ways.
The first way is from imperfect action of the kidneys. The second way is from careless local treatment of other diseases.

CHIEF CAUSE.

Unhealthy urine from unhealthy kidneys is the chief cause of bladder troubles. So the womb, like the bladder, was created for one purpose, and if not doctored too much is not liable to weakness or disease, except in rare cases. It is situated back of and very close to the bladder, therefore any pain, disease or inconvenience manifested in the kidneys, back, bladder or urinary passage is often, by mistake, attributed to female weakness or womb trouble, some sort. The error is easily made and is made as easily avoided. To find out correctly, set your urine aside for twenty four hours; a sediment or settling indicates kidney or bladder trouble.
The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy is soon realized. If you need any medicine you should have the best. At druggists fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail. Mention the Republican and send your address to Dr.
Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

WHITEHALL TERMINAL.

GRANT AS A WRITER.

His Style Was Vigorous and Terse, With Little Ornament.

General Horace Porter in "Campaigning With Grant" in The Century expresses the following opinion of Grant as a writer. His powers of concentration of thought were often shown by the circumstances under which he wrote. Nothing that went on around him, upon the field or in his quarters, could distract his attention or interrupt him. Sometimes, when his tent was filled with officers talking and laughing at the top of their voices, he would turn to his table and write the most important communications. There would then be an immediate "Hush!"
and abundant excuses offered by the company, but he always insisted upon the conversation going on, and after while his officers came to understand his wishes in this respect, to learn that noise was apparently a stimulus rather than a check to his flow of ideas, and to realize that nothing short of a general attack along the whole line could divert his thoughts from the subject upon which his mind was concentrated.

In writing his style was vigorous and terse, with little of ornament. Its most conspicuous characteristic was perspicacity. General Meade's chief of staff once said, "There is one striking feature about Grant's orders—no matter how hurriedly he may write them on the field, no one ever has the slightest doubt as to their meaning or ever has to read them over a second time to understand them." The general used Ar-go-Saxon words much more frequently than those derived from the Greek and Latin tongues. He had studied French at West Point and picked up some knowledge of Spanish during the Mexican war, but he could not hold a conversation in either language, and rarely employed a foreign word in any of his writings. His adjectives were few and well chosen. No document which ever came from his hands was in the least degree pretentious. He never laid claim to any knowledge he did not possess and seemed to feel, with Addison, that "pet-antry in learning is like hypocrisy in religion—a form of knowledge without the power of it."

He rarely indulged in metaphor, but when he did employ a figure of speech
it was always expressive and graphic.
As when he spoke of the commander of Bermuda Hundred being "in a bottle strongly corked" or referred to our armies at one time as moving "like horses in a balky team, no two ever pulling together." His style inclined to the epigrammatic without his being aware of it.
There was scarcely a document written by him from which brief sentences could not be selected fit to be set in mottos or placed upon transparencies.
As examples may be mentioned: "I propose to move immediately upon your works." "I shall take no backward steps." "The morning [I propose to fight it out on this line if it takes all summer,] and, later in his career, "Let us have peace." "The best means of securing the repeal of an obnoxious law is its vigorous enforcement." "I shall have up before me a man who is the will of the people" and "Let no guilty man escape."

Georgia's Fair Authoress

She Uses Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies.

THE NAME of Mrs. J. E. Harwell, (nee Julia Emma Fleming) is a familiar one in the state of Georgia. She writes: "It is with pleasure that I express my gratitude for the wonderful benefits I have received from Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies, especially the Nervine, the Nerve and Liver Pills, New Heart Cure and Anti-Pain Pills. Actual experience has taught me their great worth. No family should be without them. They have fully restored me from a complication of disorders chiefly affecting the heart, nervous system and kidneys. When I travel I always take one of your Anti-Pain Pills before entering the cars and thus prevent swimming of the head and nausea, to which I have been subject for several years."

Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee, first bottle benefits or money refunded. Book on Heart and Nerves sent free to all applicants.

The Brownstown Banner's lawyer in his interpretation of the law relating the publication of the township trustees report just as he does in so many other things. He is certainly not a close reader or else he interprets law just to fit his own case.

The Banner need have no concern about the REPUBLICAN'S circulation in Driftwood township. We have more bona fide subscribers in that township than the Banner. Our correspondents are the best and we publish more news from that township each week than any other paper in the county.

There is a Class of People.

Who are injured by the use of coffee. Recently there has been placed in all the grocery stores a new preparation called GRAIN-O, made of pure grain that takes the place of coffee. The most delicate stomach receives it with out distress, and but few can tell it is coffee. It does not cost over 1 cent. Children may drink it with out benefit. 15 cts. and 25 cts. per package. Try it. Ask for GRAIN-O.

WHO PAYS FOR THE COURT HOUSE.

To one who has read the law upon the subject of court house removal, there is no question as to who pays the expenses of the county seat removal. The township into which the court house is removed becomes liable under the law for the entire cost of the new buildings. In fact there can be no removal of records and files until the new court house is built and deeded to the county free of all "mortgage, mechanic or other liens."

Section 22 of the county seat act is as follows:

SECTION 22. The relocation of a county seat under the provisions of this act, and the buildings because of such relocation, and the charges, expenses and liabilities consequent thereon, shall not, in whole or in part, become a charge on said county, nor shall said county assume any liability therefor, but the whole shall be paid by the township of said county in which said county seat is relocated. That said county seat shall not be relocated in any township of said county, nor the county records and files be moved to and located at such place of such relocation by the county commissioners of that county, until the court house and jail shall have been relocated and turned over to the county, and a good and sufficient warranty deed shall have been delivered to such county, upon which said buildings are located, as provided for in this act, and said real estate and building shall be free from any and all mortgage, mechanic or other liens."

This section absolutely prohibits the county from ever assuming any part of the removal, or new buildings expenses provides that there can be no relocation, no removal of books, files or records, until the new buildings are completed, and that they and the ground on which they are situated are all free from all classes of liens.

The framers of the county seat act were careful in their preparation of it that it should absolutely and forever prohibit and prevent the levy, or collection of a dollar for removal expenses from any one, except taxpayers of the township in which the county seat is relocated, and the incorporated cities and towns therein. It was believed and rightly so and such is the law, that the locality which receives the benefits derived from the removal of the county seat ought to pay the expenses of removal, including new buildings.

The supreme court of the state has in express words upheld all the essential features of the county seat law, and it has by express mention upheld and pronounced valid all its sections upon the subject of taxation and the removal expenses including the cost of the new buildings.

It is being urged on the voters by anti-removalists who have no better reasons to give for their opposition, that if the county seat act does restrict the cost of removal to Jackson township, that some subsequent legislature may pass a law authorizing the county commissioners to reimburse the township at the expense of the county. Every thoughtful man knows that where the county seat is relocated by virtue of law which imposes the burden of removal upon the township in which it is relocated that no legislature could make or would attempt to make provisions for reimbursing the township. Wherever a contract right has accrued under a law, general or special, no subsequent law can interfere with, or change that right. Contract rights are usually provided for and accrue under special matter only, and those matters immediately connected with it.

The removal act creates contract rights which no subsequent legislature can invalidate or interfere with. To do so would be to violate that provision of the constitution which prohibits the legislature from passing laws which violate the obligation of contracts.

In case relocation carries, the act creates a legislative contract between the people of Seymour and Jackson township, and all the other people of the county. The contract thus created by the legislature is that Jackson township including Seymour, shall bear all the expenses of removal, including new buildings, and should the legislature pass a law, which every man of common sense knows it will not, to make it possible to cast any of the burden of relocation on the people of the county living outside of Jackson township, all know it would be in violation of their contract rights created by the existing act of the legislature on county seat relocation, and would be absolutely void. There is and can be no power to impose any of the expense of relocation on any taxpayer outside of Jackson township and all who assert the contrary know it.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Large Attendance and Much Interest Manifested.

The county Sunday-school convention now in session at the Presbyterian church is the most largely attended of any of the annual meetings. The capacity of the church is tested to accommodate the crowd of delegates and visitors.

The lecture last night by the state Superintendent, C. D. Meigs, was attended by a large crowd and was interesting and suggestive throughout. His subject was, "Why I am in the Sunday School Work."

This morning was opened by a sunrise prayer meeting led by Rev. F. H. Tormohlen which was well attended. The following is the list of subjects presented this morning: The Observance of the Lord's Day, Miss Anna Reynolds, Tampico. Discussion by Miss Bessie Patrick, Seymour. Primary Work, Mrs. R. J. Montgomery, Seymour. Discussion led by Miss Lou Van Horn, Seymour.

Township Officers' Conference led by Wm. H. Rapp, Redding Township President.

The Bible, Louis Mobley, member of state executive committee, Columbus. Rally Day, C. B. Davis, Co. Sec., Brownstown.

Decision Day, Miss Adda Pfiffer, Brownstown. Discussion by Mrs. J. I. Kessler, Seymour.

The conference of township officers indicated a very great improvement in Sunday-school work during the past year in the county.

The afternoon session opened with devotional exercises led by Rev. G. W. Applegate, of Brownstown. The subjects to be presented are as follows:

Question box opened.

Answers by J. W. Clevenger, Seymour.

And Rev. George S. Henninger, Crothersville. Methods for Interesting Young People, Elder A. F. Beare, Seymour. Discussion led by Ralph Cross, Asst. Sec. Freetown.

SAWMILL EXPLOSION

Theo Men Seriously Injured and Two Will Probably Die.

FAILURE OF AN EX-BANKER.

Indiana State Tax Board Increases the Corporate Property Assessments $1,500,000—Received Her Burial Outfit—Sweethearts Fifty Years Ago—Cut His Harness to Pieces—Tragedy at Dillsboro.

COWAN, Ind., Sept. 1.—An old stationary boiler in Replogle's saw and mill has exploded last night, destroying the mills and injuring three men. They are: Jacob Replogle, aged 60; Clinton Replogle, aged 35, and Amos Replogle, aged 26. Jacob was scalded horribly and lost internally, being struck in the breast and plucked to the ground by heavy timbers. Clinton was also terribly scalded and caught by flying timbers. They will likely die. Pieces of the boiler and timber fell a quarter of a mile from the scene. Amos says the boiler was full of water.

ANOTHER DILLSBORO TRAGEDY.

Henry Lange Found Dead in a Field by His Daughter.

DILLSBORO, Ind., Sept. 1.—Another tragedy has taken place near here. The dead body of Henry Lange was found in a field close to his home by his 14-year-old daughter, his head pointed to a jelly, and the indications pointing to a desperate fight for life with unknown assailants. The community is greatly stirred up over the tragedy. Several years ago the Lange house was destroyed by incendiary and after it had been rebuilt there were repeated efforts to again apply the torch. A man and his wife under suspicion were arrested and being insufficient. At times since much bitter enmity has been shown, but there is no evidence even now warranting an arrest.

EX-BANKER FAILS.

Shrinkage in Value of Property Causes His Assignment.

ROCKVILLE, Ind., Sept. 1.—Samuel L. McCune, for 25 years banker and for the past five president of the Rockville National bank, from which he retired a few weeks ago, has failed. Shrinkage in values of real estate, mostly coal lands, is the principal cause. He lately gave $91,000 in mortgages to secure creditors. The big Lavery estate is a large creditor and is only partially secured. Mr. McCune will have to give up his residence and one small farm.

INCREASED PROPERTY VALUATION.

State Tax Board Adds $1,500,000 to Corporate Property Assessments.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 1.—The final footings of the assessments of corporate property by the state board of tax commissioners show that the board has increased the assessment of this class of property $1,500,000 over last year. The total valuation of all property in the state assessed for taxation will show a large increase over former years. In many of the counties there has been a substantial increase in personal property, and in few counties is a decrease shown.

General Wallace Doesn't Like Bicyclists.

CHAMFORDVILLE, Ind., Sept. 1.—General Lew Wallace, in delivering an address at a reception to Commandery No. 19, P. O. S. of A., which had just returned from Reading, Pa., where it won first honors in a competitive drill, stated that the best appearing man was always one of military training. He said bicyclists resembled monkeys more than men, and he greatly depreciated the popular custom of wheeling.

Arrested the Wrong Man.

RICHMOND, Ind., Sept. 1.—William Jennings, a colored farmer, south of this city, has been arrested and taken to Xenia, O., a charge of stealing cattle. People in the vicinity where Jennings resides are very indignant, claiming he is a man of good character and has not been off his farm this summer. His neighbors, all of whom are white, will establish an alibi.

Sweethearts Fifty Years Ago.

HAGERSTOWN, Ind., Sept. 1.—Richard and Cheeseman and Mrs. Phoebe Hedrick were married at the home of the groom's parents. The groom is 70 and the bride 65 years old. This newly married couple were sweethearts 50 years ago, but the course of true love was diverted and each of them married another and reared a family.

Received Her Burial Outfit.

ENGLISH, Ind., Sept. 1.—Mrs. Dixon Hanna, a wealthy widow, now very ill here, has received her coffin, burial clothes and a $1,000 monument, which she says is the dearest thing she has. Her intention is to pay all the expenses of her funeral while she is capable of doing it.

United Brethren in Conference.

GREENSTOWN, Ind., Sept. 1.—The 52nd annual session of the United Brethren conference of the United Brethren church, closing Sunday morning, Bishop Weaver of Dayton, O., the senior bishop of the church, is presiding.

Took an Overdose of Morphine.

SPENCER, Ind., Sept. 1.—Mrs. Hugh Hoag died yesterday from the effect of an overdose of morphine. She had been in the habit of taking the drug to get relief from asthma.

Brought Ended.

ENGLISH, Ind., Sept. 1.—A good rain fell here yesterday, the first since which has been almost ruined by drought and most of it has been cut up and soaked.

Cut His Harness to Pieces.

CHERRYBELL, Ind., Sept. 1.—Supposed "whitecapers" captured Arthur Hughes' barn near here, and four sets of harness were literally cut to pieces.

Despondent Over Financial Matters.

WAYNETOWN, Ind., Sept. 1.—Daniel Harper, living near here, committed suicide by taking poison. He is supposed to have been despondent because of financial troubles.

Will cure the worst forms of female complaints, all ovarian troubles, inflammation and ulceration, falling and displacements of the womb, and consequent spinal weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the change of life.

Every time it will cure Backache.

It has cured more cases of leucorrhea by removing the cause, than any remedy the world has ever known; it is almost infallible in such cases. It dissolves and expels tumors from the uterus in an early stage of development, and checks any tendency to cancerous humors. Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills work in unison with the Compound, and are a sure cure for constipation and sick headache. Mrs. Pinkham's Senative Wash is of great value for local application.

FOUND DEAD IN HIS CHAIR.

Jesse C. Harris Commits Suicide at Indianapolis.

This morning's Journal contains an extended account of the death of Jesse C. Harris at his store at Indianapolis. On Saturday he was slightly wounded in the head by being thrown against a balustrade in an encounter with a man from whom he attempted to collect a bill. He wandered about town and finally had his head dressed at the dispensary. It is thought that the blow affected his mind. Tuesday morning he was found sitting upright in front of his store by the driver of the bread wagon who had jumped off to deliver bread. The driver thought he was asleep, and on finding him dead with a bullet hole in his head he aroused the folks and telegraphed for the police. The coroner investigated the case and reached the conclusion that Harris "died from a pistol shot wound, evidently inflicted by himself."

Harris was once well known in this city. He was an old soldier and a member of the G. A. R. Besides he belonged to several orders, including the the Masons, Odd Fellows and Red Men. He went to Indianapolis several years ago. About four years ago his wife obtained a divorce from him and is now living in California. A son of Harris' lives in Kansas. S. O. Harris, of Indianapolis, is a brother and he has two sisters in Seymour, Mrs. Edward Donaldson and Mrs. John Hawkins. The body will be brought to Seymour Thursday at 10:00 for burial. The funeral will be in charge of the Odd Fellows.

BRICK STREETS ON THE AVENUE.

Probability That Work Will be Resumed Next Monday.

Yesterday the injunction suit of the B. & O. S. W. against the city of Seymour in the brick street case was practically settled by an agreement which was reached between the parties to the suit. The agreement needs the sanction of the railroad officials and of the city council. If this is given as promptly as expected work will be resumed next Monday and the streets will be completed in time for the street fair. Mayor Bailey states that the city has gained all that is contended for in the case.

Something to Depend on.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says that last winter his wife was attacked with La Grippe, and the case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into hasty consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from the first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at W. F. Peter's drug store.

To Care For Visitors.

From the many inquiries received regarding the Free Street Fair it is presumed that during the Fair week Seymour will be visited by a vast concourse of people.

As the hotels will be unable to accommodate all the visitors with lodging it is expedient that some other arrangement be made for the entertainment of those who remain with us over night.

Any citizen who is prepared to lodge one or more persons will please report to the management, who will take name and address and make arrangements accordingly. G. A. CLARK, Sec'y.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Seymour REPUBLICAN.

John R. McLean's Great Newspaper.

Without a single exception, there is beyond doubt no greater or more popular newspaper in the United States than the Cincinnati Enquirer; a more successful publisher than proprietor, Mr. John R. McLean. The old-time prices for the Daily Enquirer have been maintained, and its circulation largely increased each year; hard times and cheaper journals failing to arrest its onward march and high appreciation of the public for its true worth and merit.

The Weekly Enquirer at beginning of the campaign year was offered at 50 cents a year, and its circulation increased by the addition of over 200,000 new subscribers; the most substantial and coveted testimonial a publisher could desire.

When asked for the secret of such success, Mr. McLean frankly answers: The Enquirer has no opinions to force upon its patrons, it simply prints the facts and tells the truth that the reader may form his own opinions. By maintaining the price of the paper, more news and greater variety can be furnished, and every class of business interests catered to, which a cheaper journal cannot afford.

The very liberal support given the Enquirer by the public at large, makes incumbent upon the management to serve it faithfully with zeal and enterprise in minor matters as well as in those of greater magnitude.

CORONATION SERVICES.

Tenure of Land on Condition of Personal Duty to the Sovereign.

Florence Hayward describes Queen Victoria's coronation roll in "The Century." The writer says:

After telling how the privy council was formed into a commission "to hear the petitions of the lords, great men, nobles, knights and other with regard to services, duties, attendances, offices, fees and rights connected with the ceremony of coronation," the roll states what these petitions were, or at least such of them as were granted.

One was that the Duke of Norfolk, who claimed "the right to find for the queen on her day of coronation a glove for her majesty's right hand and to support the queen's right arm on the same day as long as her majesty shall hold in her hand the royal scepter, the petitioner holding the manor of Workop by the aforesaid services." In other words, if the Duke of Norfolk had failed to provide the glove or to support her majesty's arm at that particular time his ownership of Workop manor would have been invalidated and the property have reverted to the crown.

Another petition was that of Barbara, Baroness Grey de Ruthyn, who, as the head of her family, claimed the right to carry the great spurs before her majesty on the day of her coronation and asked that George, Lord Byron, be appointed her deputy for the performance of that duty.

Yet another was that of Francis, twelfth earl of Huntingdon. The earl of Huntingdon had remained suspended for many years owing to the tenth earl dying without issue. When, however, this twelfth in the line of succession succeeded in establishing, as a descendant of the second earl, his right to the peerage, he also claimed the right to carry one of the four swords of state in the coronation procession, this, as well as other duties and services connected with the ceremony, being the condition of his tenure of lands. Small wonder, then, that in announcing the omission of the procession it was important to set forth also that the non-performance of duties connected with it should entail no forfeitures.

Ingrowing Hair.

The barber was talking. "Ingrowing hairs in the face are often painful," he remarked, "but they aren't in it with ingrowing hairs under the finger nails. Fact, I assure you. Ask any barber, and he will tell you the same thing. How do they get there? Oh, that's simple enough. In cutting a man's hair, a short hair very often flies off the shears and lodges under the finger nail. We don't notice it at the time, and it gradually works its way in until it is completely out of sight. Then the trouble begins. Sometimes it takes root and grows out, but more often it just stays there and festers. Does the razor hurt? There you are, sir. Next!"—Philadelphia Record.

COURSING LIZARDS.

The Amusement of a Tame Eagle in the Arizona Desert.

In St. Nicholas Wolcott Le Clear Beard writes of "Moses, a Tame Eagle," which was one of his pets while he was engaged in engineering in southern Arizona. Mr. Beard says he was very fond of the lizards with which these plains abounded, and one large variety, called swifts, from their remarkable speed in running, seemed to be especially coveted.

Whenever one of these was caught, which was not often, Moses would be brought out, and, after the swift had taken a ten foot start, would be set free. The lizard would promptly resolve itself into a white streak across the desert, and, screaming with excitement, half running, half flying, Moses would pursue, followed by the laughing crowd, of which only those on horseback had much chance of keeping up. It was in no sense a cruel sport. It amused Moses and us and didn't hurt the swift, for he got away every time, and if the feelings of our pet were a trifle injured he returned, perched on some one's wrist or saddle horn, from his fearless hunt these were speedily soothed by the prompt gift of a nice bit of fresh beef, so no one was the worse. The lizards, however, he seemed to view as a sort of dessert, and as he could absorb an unlimited quantity they were always in demand.

A certain stick kept on the veranda of our office was generally under his eye, and when any one picked this up and started for a walk across the desert Moses would hop gravely along behind, sure that some of his favorite dainties would soon be forthcoming.

Of course Moses was perfectly well able to catch the smaller kinds of lizards for himself, but there was less exertion in allowing some one else to do it for him, and exertion at this period of his life was a thing to which Moses was violently opposed. These occasions were almost the only ones when he would be silent for any length of time, for he seemed to understand perfectly that at the first note of his voice every lizard within hearing would run for his life to the nearest mesa, and only when a blow of the stick had been given would he give utterance to his deep disgust at such clumsiness.

His Part in the Act.

A very dejected looking man stood in the dignified presence of the police judge.

"You are charged with being drunk and disorderly," said the judge with great solemnity. "Are you guilty or not guilty?"

"I don't know, your honor," responded the submissive prisoner. "I suppose I am."

"Am?" queried the judge a little less solemnly.

The prisoner rubbed his eyes as if to see more clearly.

"No, your honor," he said. "Not am, but was."

"Was what?"

"Was drunk, I suppose, your honor."

"You've never been here before, have you?"

"No, your honor."

"Have you any explanation to offer for your unseemly conduct?"

"Not that I can recall at this moment, your honor," and the prisoner rubbed his head as if to start the circulation of his memory once more.

"I am informed," suggested the judge in a kindly tone, for he had a weakness that way himself, "that you were fishing."

This suggestion appeared to be what the prisoner needed.

"Thanks, your honor," said he with a brightening face, "but I wasn't fishing."

"No?" and the erstwhile kindness of the judge's manner grew cold.

"No, your honor, I was cutting bait. The Lord only knows the condition of the man who did the fishing. I left him speechless under a tree two hours before I met the policeman."

The case was continued until a searching party returned.—New York Sun.

ONE OF TWO WAYS.

The bladder was created for one purpose, namely, a receptacle for the urine, and as such it is not liable to any form of disease except by one of two ways. The first way is from imperfect action of the kidneys. The second way is from careless local treatment of other diseases.

CHIEF CAUSE.

Unhealthy urine from unhealthy kidneys is the chief cause of bladder troubles. So the womb, like the bladder, was created for one purpose, and if not doctored too much is not liable to weakness or disease, except in rare cases. It is situated back of and very close to the bladder, therefore any pain, disease or inconvenience manifested in the kidneys, back, bladder or urinary passage is often, by mistake, attributed to female weakness or womb trouble, a most serious error. The error is easily made and is made as easily avoided. To find out correctly, set your urine aside for twenty-four hours, sediment or settling indicates kidney or bladder trouble. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy is soon realized. If you need any medicine you should have the best. At druggists fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail. Mention the REPUBLICAN and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. GRANT AS A WRITER.

His Style Was Vigorous and terse, with little ornament.

General Horatio Porter in "Campaign, with Grant" in "The Century" expresses the following opinion of Grant as a writer: "His power of concentration of thought were often shown by the circumstances under which he wrote. Nothing that went on around him, upon the field or in his quarters, could distract his attention or interrupt him. Sometimes, when his tent was filled with officers talking and laughing at the top of their voices, he would turn to his table and write the most important communications. There would then be an immediate 'Hush!' and abundant excuses offered by the company, but he always insisted upon the conversation going on, and after awhile his officers came to understand his wishes in this respect, to learn that noise was apparently a stimulus rather than a check to his flow of ideas, and to realize that nothing short of a general attack along the whole line could divert his thoughts from the subject upon which his mind was concentrated.

In writing his style was vigorous and terse, with little of ornament. Its most conspicuous characteristic was perspicuity. General Meade's chief of staff once said, 'There is one striking feature about Grant's orders—no matter how hurriedly he may write them on the field, no one ever has the slightest doubt as to their meaning or ever has to read them over a second time to understand them.' The general used Anglo-Saxon words much more frequently than those derived from the Greek and Latin tongues. He had studied French at West Point and picked up some knowledge of Spanish during the Mexican war, but he could not hold a conversation in either language, and rarely employed a foreign word in any of his writings. His adjectives were few and well chosen. No document which ever came from his hands was in the least degree pretentious. He never laid claim to any knowledge he did not possess and seemed to feel, with Addison, that 'pedantry in learning is like hypocrisy in religion—a form of knowledge without the power of it.'

He rarely indulged in metaphor, but when he did employ a figure of speech it was always expressive and graphic, as when he spoke of the commander of Bermuda Hundred being 'in a bottle strongly corked' or referred to our army at one time as moving 'like heresies in a balky team, no two ever pulling together.' His style inclined to the epigrammatic without his being aware of it. There was scarcely a document written by him from which brief sentences could not be selected fit to be set in mottoes or placed upon transparencies. As examples may be mentioned: 'I propose to move immediately upon your works.' 'I shall take no backward steps.' 'The fighting I propose to fight it out on this line if it takes all summer,' and, later in his career, 'Let us have peace.' 'The best means of securing the repeal of an obnoxious law is its vigorous enforcement.' 'I shall have up to me to command the will of the people' and 'Let no guilty man escape.'
